WOMAN SNATCHES TICKET AND RUNS

Agent at Clifton Forge Has Exciting Time with Ticket-Grabber.

PURSUES HER TO C. & O. TRAIN

Arrested. She Claims That She Thought She Was in Gordonsville on Way to Exposition.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CLIFTON FORGE, VA., April 14.—The report that a well-known member of the Daughters of the Revolution had been arrested here for making trouble in a Pullman attached to a Chesapeake and Ohio train, is without foundation. A woman giving her name as Mrs. Addie Long, of Indianapolis, Ind., is in jail here, charged with the theft of a ticket from Clifton Forge to Washington. With a ticket in her possession good to Norfolk she applied for a ticket to Washington, when the agent, taking the ticket within her reach she laid down $1.25, grabbed the ticket and made for the train. The agent gave chase and soon had the woman arrested, but not until after a hard struggle. She will be given a hearing in the Mayor's Court tomorrow. The woman looks much like a Creole, and when interviewed in jail stated that she was going to Norfolk to spend some time, and that her husband was following with an exhibit for the Jamestown Exposition. No explanation can be given for her strange action. She says she thought she was at Gordonsville, where it is necessary to change cars to go to Norfolk. It is not known how the report originated that this woman is a member of the Daughters of the Revolution.

MARSHALL DISPENSARY.

Law Says It Cannot Be Within 200 Feet of Church.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 14.—The Marshall dispensary is at present out of business, and that town is now dry, much to the apparent satisfaction of the residents. It appears that there is not a deep love for the whiskey dispensary in Marshall, and the last North Carolina Legislature was asked to abolish it. This act was passed, but there was an act forbidding dispensaries from operating within 200 feet of a schoolhouse or a place of worship, and that has amounted to the same thing so far as the Marshall dispensary was concerned, as it was located within 150 feet of a church.

WICKHAM ANSWERS CHARGE

Dr. Dodd Had Questioned the Propriety of State Senator Being Counsel for a Railroad.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ASHLAND, VA., April 14.—The special committee of the Northside Sun Cured Tobacco Association met the committee of the Business Men's Association of Ashland here on Saturday morning. Mr. Morgan Shepherd, of the Southern Planter, who resides here and who has been instrumental in the substantial discussion of the subject, met the committee, and the subject of building a warehouse for sun-cured tobacco was discussed. The committee of the tobacco-growers was represented by Mr. J. J. Terry, Mr. Randolph Taylor, Mr. Wm. Wickham and Mr. Fenton Noland. It was proposed to lay the matter before the growers at once and thus determine whether a market for the sun-cured tobacco and a large warehouse will be built here. The plan has met with decided approval, and a co-operative plan will be adopted. The committee of the growers has prepared a form of letter to be addressed to the raisers of this product, and on the strength of this solicitation will depend the question of establishing the warehouse here.

The last issue of the Hanover Herald, published here, contains an address from Hon. Henry T. Wickham to the people of Hanover county. It is a vigorous defense of his position as State Senator from this district, and is an impassioned reply to the attacks of Dr. W. P. Dodd, which recently appeared in the paper. Dr. Dodd, occupying the position of professor of history and political economy in Randolph-Macon College, has taken a significant interest in the issues of future political questions and questions the propriety of Senator Wickham holding dual positions as general counsel of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and State Senator from this district. He will reply to Mr. Wickham in the next issue of the local paper.
